Conclusion/Brief comment:

All material considerations as set out in the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005 and the Land and Planning (General Provisions) Ordinance 2007 have been taken into account in the assessment of this application.

The proposed first floor extension adopts a good standard of design by virtue of its scale, mass, siting and materials which relates well to the main-house.

Some concerns are raised in respect of the form, materials and detailing when 'read' in context with the original part of the property which features pitched roofs and more traditional style of windows, and rendered walls. Although, due to the flexibility afforded to personal choice in design matters in less sensitive areas, this modern addition is unlikely to have such a substantial effect to rebut the general support in favour of householder development to warrant refusal.

Due to the distance and relationship between the first floor fenestration of the proposed extension and neighbouring properties to the north-east and south-east of the site, the degree of harm would not be significant to justify refusal.

Sufficient information has been submitted that has taken into account the criteria of Policy GP9 (Sustainable Development).

Based on the above, the application is considered compliant with the relevant Island Development Plan policies; it is therefore recommended that planning permission be granted, subject to conditions.
