Conclusion/Brief comment:

The proposal is the resubmission of the approved FULL/2020/0824 scheme which very recently expired. However, there have been no changes in policy since the earlier approval and so this remains an important consideration.

The principle of extending the dwelling has been established through the grant of planning permission in 2014, 2017 and 2020 using the current Island Development Plan. The assessment of the site in 2017 is as follows;

“Whilst the proposal would result in a considerable increase to the scale and massing of the dwelling, the immediate vicinity includes a number of dwellings of substantial size, including the adjacent properties to the north and south and the scale of the proposed dwelling would not be out of place.

Despite the increase to the scale and massing of the dwelling, the extensions would not project significantly beyond the rear elevation of the neighbouring dwelling to the north. The two storey extension to the south gable projects towards the neighbouring boundary. However, the extension would be set back a minimum of 1m from the boundary and together with its orientation, to the north of the neighbouring property, it is considered that the proposal is unlikely to cause any significant overshadowing or overbearing impact on neighbouring properties.

The extension proposed is considered to be acceptable and appropriate in this location where the design and appearance of properties is varied.

The submitted scheme incorporates obscure glazing in the northern and southern most glazed panels at first floor level in the rear extension, a 1.8m high obscure glazed screen to the south elevation of the balcony on the front elevation, in addition the rear balcony does not project onto the proposed rear extension. The remaining window in the south elevation at first floor level serves a bathroom and it is recommended that this window is obscure glazed to maintain privacy, this matter can be controlled by planning condition. The application site and neighbouring properties to the north and south currently overlook one another from rear balconies, reducing the level of privacy currently enjoyed. Taking this into account, the measures incorporated are considered to be adequate to safeguard the privacy of neighbouring residents and the proposal would have no material additional adverse effects on neighbouring amenity.

Whilst mature trees and shrubs exist on the site the removal of the shrubs does not require planning permission. The removal of existing trees from the site is considered acceptable subject to appropriate replacement planting in the interests of the visual amenities and character of the area. It is unclear what is proposed regarding the existing planting and mature trees on the site, particularly forward of the dwelling, and whether any alterations are proposed to the western most boundary around the parking area. The existing planting makes a positive contribution to the character and appearance of the area and details of the boundary treatments and landscaping should be requested prior to the commencement of works as part of a planning condition. The control of landscaping by condition should address concerns raised through the public consultation process with regard to trees and shrubs that currently exist on site.

The concerns expressed regarding the proximity of the extension to the site boundary have been noted. There is no requirement in planning for new buildings to be set away from site boundaries. Where development is situated on a boundary matters relating to maintenance are a private civil matter and cannot be considered as part of a planning application. The position of a building in relation to a boundary will be assessed through the Building Regulations in order to ensure appropriate materials are used with regard to fire regulations however the Building Regulations are entirely separate from planning legislation and would not prevent the grant of planning permission."

There have been no changes to planning policy since the last approval, and no significant changes on site and so the above assessment still stands. The boundary treatments remain as tall mature planting, and therefore the proposals are considered to conform to the above policies of the Island Development Plan and grant of permission is recommended, subject to the same conditions as the previous approval.

Policy GP9: Sustainable Development seeks to ensure all new development takes into account the use of energy and resources and any adverse impacts on the environment. There has been sufficient information provided with the application to comply with the requirements of this policy.

All material considerations as set out in the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005 and the Land and Planning (General Provisions) Ordinance 2007 have been taken into account in the assessment of this application.

The application is acceptable in relation to the above policies and other material planning considerations.
