Conclusion/Brief comment:

This application is to erect an agricultural outbuilding to provide shelter for a potential nursing goat and kids.

The size of the shelter is specifically designed for goats, the proposed 7.5m long shelter will provide two stable areas at either end with a shared shelter area in the middle. The structure is 1.83m wide and less than 2m high.

The size, height and timber clad appearance of the building is considered to represent a good standard of design that respects the open landscape concerned.

The relationship of the building to the residential properties to the southeast is such that it will not result in harm to the amenities currently enjoyed.

Policy OC5(A) does make provision for development not related to a farm or agricultural holding and also in relation to hobby farms and small holdings. Paragraph 17.3.2 of the IDP considers that current agricultural practise in Guernsey centres on the dairy industry but also includes outdoor vegetable growing and a range of hobby farming and small holdings.

Policy OC5 supports proposals for development relating to the agricultural use of an existing farmstead, or for a purpose ancillary or ordinarily incidental to the existing principal agricultural use, where there are no other buildings or structures which could with, or without reasonable adaptation be otherwise used for the proposed purpose.

The application submission confirms that the land is already used for the keeping of goats but does not form part of a larger farm or commercial agricultural holding. As a result there is a need to provide a structure on the site to let the goats have some shelter, especially if they are nursing kids.

The proposals are considered to conform to the above policies of the Island Development Plan and grant of permission is recommended, subject to conditions.

All material considerations as set out in the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005 and the Land and Planning (General Provisions) Ordinance 2007 have been taken into account in the assessment of this application.
