Conclusion/Brief comment:

All material considerations as set out in the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005 and the Land Planning and Development (General Provisions) Ordinance, 2007 have been taken into account in the assessment of this application.

The proposed extension achieves an acceptable standard of design (Policy GP8) in terms of the scale, form and mass and its relationship to the original building by reflecting a traditional pitched roof and offsetting the extension to the east and west gables respectively to achieve a subservient and proportionate design.

Whilst some concerns are raised over the flat roof link between the original part of the house and the pitched roof extension, the extent of the flat roof will be only be visible in glimpsed oblique views from Saints Road, and therefore would not give sufficient grounds to warrant deferral to seek an amendment, or warrant refusal. Moreover, the surrounding area features larger, 1st floor flat roof extensions that are more prominent in the street scene.

The use of zinc cladding on the proposed extension obviously contrasts to the materials used as part of the original building, although the Island Development Plan allows for either a traditional or contemporary design approach that respects the character and appearance of the Conservation Area and setting of protected building, without necessarily replicating, the scale, mass, detail and special interest of the surrounding built form to complement the local character. In this instance, the use of zinc cladding is a traditional material and will add as sense of contrast and interest to the building which is supported under Policy, and is sufficiently setback from the road which reduces its prominence from public vantage points. Overall, the design adopted is different to the main dwelling and surrounding built form, although does not result in harm and therefore for the purpose of Policy GP4, the proposal does conserve the character and appearance of the Conservation Area.

Due to the scale, form, layout of fenestration, distance and relationship to neighbouring properties, the proposal will not affect neighbour amenity in terms of overlooking, overshadowing or having an overbearing effect.

The proposal adopts a good standard of design by virtue of its scale, form, massing, siting and materials. Due to its position and design, the proposal will not have a detrimental impact on the character of the area, visual amenity, or the amenities of neighbouring residents.

Sufficient information has been submitted that has taken into account the criteria of Policy GP9 (Sustainable Development).

Based on the above, the application is considered compliant with the relevant Island Development Plan policies, and accords with the purpose of the Law and the Material Planning Considerations. It is therefore recommended that planning permission be granted, subject to conditions.
