Consultations:

The Office of Environmental Health and Pollution Regulation, 18/03/2025

"I have reviewed the proposed plans to install an air source heat pump to the south elevation of an outbuilding at the above site.

To protect the amenity of the nearest noise sensitive residential property, I would recommend that the following condition is attached to any consent granted for the application:

- Noise associated with plant and machinery incorporated within the development shall be controlled such that the Rating Level, measured or calculated at 1-metre from the facade of the nearest existing noise sensitive premises, shall not exceed a level 5 dB(A) below the existing LA90 background noise level, including low frequency tones. Rating Level and existing background noise levels shall be determined as per the guidance provided in BS 4142:2014+Al:2019".

Conclusion/Brief comment:

To protect the amenity of neighbouring residents it is recommended that a condition is applied to limit the noise from the air source heat pump.

All material considerations as set out in the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005 and the Land Planning and Development (General Provisions) Ordinance, 2007 have been taken into account in the assessment of this application.

The application is acceptable in relation to the above policies and other material planning considerations.
