The IDP makes provision for such alterations to existing premises such as this, within a Main Centre location. The works are set back from the road frontage and will be visible only in glimpse views through the carriage arch in Havilland Street. The works will not result in unacceptable harm to the character and appearance of the Conservation Area.

In terms of the amenities of surrounding occupiers, the works relates to an existing commercial premises and are to improve the delivery process. This will not significantly alter the access arrangements on site and will not therefore, result in undue harm in this case.
