Conclusion/Brief comment:

This application is to erect a single storey 9sqm rear extension to house a utility room and to enlarge the proposed bedroom. Alterations to the fenestration and to move the oil tank just over 2m to the north.

Changing the existing garage door for a window is considered to be exempt development as is the change of side door to the existing garage, soon to be associated living unit (ALU).

The proposals are considered to achieve a good standard of design, using materials which complement the existing materials. The extension will provide adequate levels of sunshine and daylight, and give the occupiers more flexible and adaptable accommodation. The proposed associated living unit forms an integral part of the existing dwelling and together with the information submitted, it is considered to be well-related and ancillary to the existing dwelling, in accordance with Policy GP13.

The scale and massing of the new extension is not considered to have a detrimental effect on the character and amenity of the surrounding area, nor will it have any impact on either of the immediate neighbours. The new wall for the oil tank is also not considered to have any impacts on the character of the area or to neighbour amenity.

Confirmation has been received that the development proposed has been designed to take into account matters of energy efficiency and current Building Regulations in accordance with Policy GP9.

The proposals are considered to conform to the above policies of the Island Development Plan and grant of permission is recommended, subject to conditions.

All material considerations as set out in the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005 and the Land Planning and Development (General Provisions) Ordinance, 2007 have been taken into account in the assessment of this application.
