The property known as 'Mulberry House' is a three and a half storey early Victorian town house, which is slightly set back from and facing north onto Union Street. There is an adjoining property to the west, Little St John Street runs along the east boundary and there is a smaller property to the south beyond the long garden. The property is located within the St Peter Port Main Centre and Conservation Area as defined in the Island Development Plan. The property is a Protected Building as are many of the surrounding properties.

Conclusion/Brief comment:

This application is to Install a replacement balustrade to the existing first floor terrace on the south elevation of this protected building.

At present there is an iron railing balustrade, which is only around 0.9m high, which is below the recommended standard of 1.1m high, and is considered a safety issue.

The replacement balustrade will be made of safety glass with stainless steel fixings and handrail. Therefore, any adverse effect on the protected building is outweighed by the reasonable aspiration of the homeowner.

The majority of the balustrade cannot be seen from any public vantage points, and although modern it is not considered to have any detrimental impact on the special interest of the protected building or on the setting of nearby protected buildings. The railing is not considered to have any adverse effects on the character and appearance of the surrounding conservation area, nor will it impact any neighbour amenity.

Confirmation has been received that the development proposed has been designed to take into account matters of energy efficiency and current Building Regulations in accordance with Policy GP9.

The proposals are considered to conform to the above policies of the Island Development Plan and grant of permission is recommended, subject to conditions.

All material considerations as set out in the Land Planning and Development (Guernsey) Law, 2005 and the Land Planning and Development (General Provisions) Ordinance, 2007 have been taken into account in the assessment of this application.
